

HighFlow Energy VPP Terms & Conditions

Introduction

ERC Energy Pty Ltd (ABN 93 629 720 993) has engaged HighFlow Energy Pty Ltd to provide Virtual Power Plant (VPP) services to eligible residential customers in Queensland and New South Wales who have solar and battery systems installed at their premises.

Under this Agreement, customers authorise HighFlow to remotely monitor, control and operate their solar and battery systems to optimise energy usage and support the electricity grid during peak demand and other market events. In return, customers may receive credits applied to their electricity bills in accordance with their Energy Plan.

Electricity is supplied to your premises under your Energy Plan through the local distribution network. The delivery, quality and reliability of electricity supply are controlled by your local Distributor and are subject to outages, interruptions and other events beyond our control. Nothing in this Agreement guarantees continuous, uninterrupted or fault-free electricity supply.

Participation in the HighFlow VPP program is intended to optimise the performance of your solar and battery system and facilitate market participation. It does not guarantee backup power during a network outage unless your system has separate backup functionality that has been independently installed and configured.

2. Eligibility Criteria

You are only eligible for a HighFlow VPP tariff if you comply with all the following conditions on the date the contract begins and throughout its term:

2.1 You must own and have installed and commissioned a solar and battery system (collectively referred to as the "solar battery installation") at your premise.

- 2.2 The premises which will be supplied must be connected to the national energy market (we will let you know if you are not connected to the national energy market); and be metered by a smart meter. If the premises does not have the correct meter, with your consent and at your cost we will upgrade your meter to comply with this requirement.
- 2.3 Eligibility for the relevant VPP cap plan and the applicable Monthly Usage Allowance will be determined based on location and the technical specifications of your installed solar, battery and inverter system.
We may assess system specifications using installer documentation, manufacturer data, commissioning records, metering data or other reasonable technical information.
Where a solar and battery system has not yet been installed, or where complete system data is unavailable, we may estimate the applicable Monthly Usage Allowance based on the proposed system size and configuration.
The Monthly Usage Allowance represents the amount of grid-imported electricity allocated to you under your selected plan. Any electricity imported from the grid above this allowance will be charged at the rates specified in your Energy Plan. Exceeding the Monthly Usage Allowance does not affect your participation in the VPP, but additional usage charges will apply.
- 2.4 You are the sole operator of the solar battery installation and you will keep the solar battery installation permanently operational and carry out any maintenance and maintenance work on the solar battery installation at your own expense.
- 2.5 You will ensure that the solar and battery system can be accessed via the internet to permit remote data access and control of the system.
- 2.6 By entering into this Agreement, you confirm that you meet the eligibility criteria listed above and consent to HighFlow remotely accessing and operating your solar battery installation for the purpose of participating in the VPP.

- (e) If you are registered as a life support customer and choose to participate in the HighFlow Virtual Power Plant, you acknowledge and agree that:
 - HighFlow may remotely control and operate your battery system for market participation purposes in accordance with this Agreement;
 - participation in the VPP may result in energy being charged to or discharged from your battery at times determined by HighFlow;
 - this operation may affect the level of stored energy available in your battery at any given time, including prior to or during an unplanned network outage; and
 - participation in the VPP does not guarantee that your battery will retain a minimum charge level or provide backup power during a network interruption.
- (f) Electricity is supplied to your Premises via the distribution network operated by your local Distributor. Registration as a life support customer does not guarantee continuous, uninterrupted or fault-free electricity supply. You are responsible for maintaining appropriate emergency or backup arrangements in consultation with your medical practitioner.

- (a) Your nominated email address, if you have agreed to receive electronic communications; or
- (b) Your nominated postal address, if electronic communications have not been selected.

5.2 Calculation of Bills

Your bill will be calculated based on:

- (a) The amount of energy used at your premises during the billing period, determined from your meter reading or, where necessary, an estimate in accordance with applicable Energy Laws; and
- (b) The energy prices and fees set out in your Energy Plan, which include the cost of energy supply, network charges, and other recurring charges related to the sale and supply of energy to you.

Your bill will include the following key components:

- Monthly Usage Allowance: This represents the total amount of grid-imported electricity allocated to you for the month.
- Demand Pass-Through: These are fees applied by your network provider based on your assigned network tariff and may vary accordingly.
- Previous Balance and Payments: This section reflects payments made during the last billing period and any outstanding balance carried forward.

5.3 Estimated Bills

If we cannot obtain actual meter data (for example, due to meter inaccessibility, meter faults, or delays from a metering provider), we may estimate your energy usage to calculate your bill. Any bill based on an estimate will be clearly marked as such.

When actual meter data becomes available, we will adjust your next bill to account for any difference between the estimated and actual usage.

- If the adjustment shows that you have been undercharged, you may pay the undercharged amount in instalments over a period equal to the time the undercharging occurred (up to a maximum of 12 months).
- If the estimated bill results from circumstances within your control (e.g., you prevented access to the meter) and you request an adjustment based on an actual meter reading, we may comply with your request but may charge you any reasonable costs incurred.

You may request to pay the undercharged amount in instalments over the same period during which the undercharge occurred (if less than 12 months). If the undercharge period exceeds 12 months, we will spread the recovery over the following 12 months, provided you allowed proper access to the meter during the relevant period.

7.5 Meter Checks and Faults

If you request a check of your meter, we may require you to pay the cost charged by your distributor for the service. This amount will be refunded if the meter is found to be faulty or incorrect.

7.6 Installation of a New Meter

You agree that we may install a new meter at the Premises as required by Energy Law or operational necessity. This includes but is not limited to upgrades to ensure compliance with applicable regulations. You have no right to opt-out of such installations.
